HOT SHOT FOR ST. JOHN.

The Kansas Ex-Governor Recently Denounced in His Home Town.

OLAH, Kan., Feb. 14.—Not since the original package excitement in this city about ten years ago has there been as lively a public meeting held as was held in the Baptist church yesterday afternoon. The storm center was ex-Governor St. John.

A few weeks ago three of the druggists here filed petitions with the probate judge asking for permits to sell liquor. The petitions will come up for hearing this month. The law requires the signatures of twenty-five men and twenty-five women of the ward, in which the drug store is to locate on each petition. One of the druggists got ex-Governor St. John, who lives in another ward, to sign his petition. This stirred up the Women's Christian Temperance Union as never before, and a meeting was called for 3 o'clock this afternoon to protest against the granting of a permit to sell whisky, as prayed for by ex-Governor St. John and others.

The church was soon filled with men and women and the W. C. T. U. was out in force; as also was Mr. St. John, to explain his action. Captain Clark was made chairman and H. E. Tracy, secretary. Senator Parker was first to speak. He opposed the petition, and called on Mr. St. John to explain why he was so prominent and able under and temperance advocate—had, after so many years of prohibition in the city, signed the first petition asking for a permit that had ever been presented to the probate court, and living, too, in a ward where his signature had no legal effect.

Mr. St. John's explanation was that he wanted liquor sold legally by the druggists. He said that if permits were refused they might sell in violation of law. The crowd listened in patience for a few minutes, but soon questions began to come from all parts of the audience at once, and the ex-governor was under such a fire from his own people as never before. "Have you not, in all your public speeches, declared that to be the freest from intoxicating drinks of any city in the country?" was asked of him. "Why to you now advocate the granting of permits? You have been with us in years gone by; why are you against us now?"

The questions came so thick and fast from Senator Parker, Judge Hindman, Rev. Mr. Goddard and women of the temperance union, that no answers could be given, and the ex-governor had to retreat under fire.

During three hours of the exciting and stormy proceedings, Major L. O. Pickering was the only one in the audience to come to the defense of St. John. Major Pickering is the father-in-law of the druggist who first filed the application.

There are three little things which do more than any other three little things created—they are the ant, the bee and the little early riser, the last being the famous little pills for stomach and liver troubles. J. Wheeler & Son.

A MILLION MEN TO STRIKE.

An Eight-Hour Day to Be Demanded by the Federation of Labor May 1.

New York, Feb. 14.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, has been in this city for two days to get the unions of this city to enter into a great movement for the eight-hour work day. According to the present plans of labor leaders a demand for the eight-hour day will be made May 1, that will involve fully a million men.

The American Federation of Labor will make this demand in one trade at a time and according to the leaders great strikes are expected before the battle likely to follow shall be decided. Previous attempts to force the large employers to grant the eight-hour work day have been unsuccessful. The success of the recent strike of miners in which more than 200,000 took part has encouraged the American Federation of Labor to prepare for undertaking a tremendous fight.

STRIKERS RESPECT SOLDIERS.

Turbulent Foreigners Seldom Show Resistance to a Military Force.

It is a great pity that national characteristics and influences cannot be taken into consideration in dealing with labor disorders in this country. Our system is one designed to agree with the nature and purpose of a republican government, but there have been many indications that it is defeated in its workings by the utter lack of ability on the part of foreign laborers to understand the spirit of republicanism. Our system calls for the exercise of civil authority in any riotous outbreak. When the county, which possesses only civil force, has exhausted all its powers and has failed to quell the disorder, it calls upon the state, which is armed with military authority and which forthwith proceeds to exercise it. This system would work admirably in a community of persons educated from childhood to a comprehension of "government of the people, for the people, by the people." Such persons are tolerably ready to bow to the will of authority which they themselves have created. They understand that their own welfare and the general safety depend upon such submission. But with a community composed largely of unassimilated foreigners the civil authority has little influence. They are accustomed to seeing the crowned heads of their nations arrayed in military garb. They are used to hearing military titles prefixed to the names of their ministers. They are familiar with the parade of military force in all times of disorder, and to them the military uniform is the symbol of rule.

Don't annoy others by your coughing, and risk your life by neglecting a cold. One Minute Cough Cure cures coughs, colds, croup, grippe and all throat and lung troubles. J. Wheeler & Son.

A Squirrel Romance.

Two boys near Cumberland, Md.,

recently had what boys everywhere would call a "romance." Somewhere in the mountains above Cumberland the squirrels for some reason, probably lack of food, became discontented with their home and they decided to migrate to the southward in a body. So they all set out one bright morning and traveled until they reached the Potomac river. Here they all leaped in and swam across. Some boys on the farther shore saw them coming in a vast, dark body that nearly choked up the river. At first they were frightened, but when they knew that they were squirrels they lay in wait and caught more than one hundred of them. People who saw the migration estimated that there must have been more than 3,000 squirrels in the company. Such migrations are not at all uncommon, although it does not often fail to the lot of boys to be on hand to see them. Rats, lemmings and other small animals migrate in the same way.

Indians Are Wakening.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—

The bosses of the Cherokee, Choctaw, Chickasaw and Creek tribes in Indian territory are beginning to show signs of weakness in their resistance to the Daves commission and an inclination to ratify the treaties for the allotment of their land in severalty, which until now they have refused to do. This is owing to their fear that Congress will pass the bill prepared by Representative Curtis of Kansas and endorsed by the two committees on Indian affairs. That measure is a great deal more radical than the provisions of the treaty. It deprives the Indians of all tribal privileges.

Eggers, in which he says, with reference to the taking away of Von der Ahe, that, in his opinion, the criminal statutes of the state had been violated, and he requested that the grand jury be instructed to make immediate investigation, with a view of punishment of the guilty parties.
